

Company Profile

About PBS

From a humble beginning as a support team to television stations to a multinational reach production Company. PBS brings you the most innovative and state of the art TV & Broadcasting Technologies.

Our services ranges from pre-production to full solution delivery, offering you as much or as little as you require to create compelling, high quality, cost-effective content answering all your audio visual needs.

We have a spacious studio overlooking the beautiful cityscape of Beirut. In addition, we are capable of setting up temporary studios on the go anywhere you need them.

If you are shooting on site, we can provide Wireless Backpacks equipped with high end 3G & 4G internet connection along with a crew available on demand allowing you to broadcast HD or SD quality.

Our in-house team is capable of managing your entire technical solutions and workflow process, allowing you to focus on your core content.

Our editing equipment coupled with experienced staff and consultants are available to supervise the full post-production and delivery requirements, making sure your end product are up to your expectation and high standards.

Whatever your production, be it a web promo, a corporate training video, a music festival, a broadcast TV production or a sporting event, we have the technical expertise and the equipment you require.

Office Space

It's a special way for certain type of channels, newspapers or any journalists from outside Lebanon to have a temporary space to perform their job.

We provide: the office, the computers and all necessities during the task period.

We also offer the broadcasting channel and its reporters, cameras and a team of professionals for the editing, graphics and transportation.

Live Guest Service

Television Channels are more and more adopting this service in most of their live broadcasting shows.

It is a live broadcasting process for the guest from our fully equipped studios (DTL Studios) to any channel around the world.

We also provide studios outside Lebanon and can even visit the guest's desired location for live broadcasting.

Wireless Backpack

A new technology helping cover any political or entertainment live event, throughout (MOBILE VIEW POINT) equipped with high end 3G & 4G internet connection allowing you to broadcast HD or SD quality.

These high-tech equipment are highly flexible, easy to use and carry due to their light weight.

From digitizing, editing and uploading, to a full on-line post production service with branding, graphics and after-effects, we offer our clients a full range of editing solutions and post-production services.

We also run the latest hardware to give you the flexibility you need to meet the most demanding creative challenges and deadlines.

Editing and Post-Production

Studio Renting

We offer highly competitive production rates, as well as flexibility in quickly responding to your evolving production needs.

We have a studio space for 2 people; (1+1) the guest and the host and a studio space for 3 people (1+2) 2 guests and 1 host.
